BURLEY GROWERS

Organize To Fight For Better Crops and Higher Prices

Leading Farmers of Kentucky Meet at Lexington

Tobacco growers of 40 counties, constituting the burley district, were assembled at Lexington yesterday taking final steps in the organization of an association.

The principal matter of discussion was the constitution, a draft of which was prepared by Hon. W. C. McChord of Springfield, Judge E. C. O'Rear of Frankfort, collaborating.

Does Not Violate Anti-Trust Law.
As to the draft of the constitution he had prepared, Mr. McChord said that it had been drawn in conformity to the restrictions of anti-trust legislation. Its scope had been confined to the form of organization and he was sure it was sound.

The constitution as it stands, provides only the form of the organization, the selling plan and management of the association being left to the general committee it creates.

Money To Carry Grower.
Another purpose of the county association is "to secure money to be advanced to the tobacco growers on their tobacco before it is ready for or while it is being held for market."

TWO MAYSVILLE BOYS IN $100,000 CONCERN.

The Pneumatic Tire Company is the name of a new manufacturing company, capitalized at $100,000, now being established at Madisonville, O., near Cincinnati.

Among the largest stockholders are Mr. John Dudley Keith, son of President Thomas A. Keith of the First National Bank of this city, and Mr. Carl E. Glascock, who recently moved from Maysville to Cincinnati.

The business of the new concern is to manufacture pneumatic automobile tires, and its success seems assured, as it is said they have sales for all the tires the factory can turn out in the next twelve months.

Mr. Keith and Mr. Glascock will be two of the most active members of the new firm and will begin devoting their entire time and in a few months 250 men will be employed.

WINTER FLIES.

The winter season, naturally, is not the period in which most persons are likely to take measures to prevent the breeding of flies. In the summer, when the flies are thick, the wish will be frequently heard that preventive precautions had been taken. In the course of an inspection, January 7, by the sanitary bureau of New York, in response to complaints regarding a heap of manure, dirt and rubbish not far from a public school in a crowded district of the city, a rather startling state of affairs was revealed. The heap of manure was found partly covered with tar paper and rubbish in which, despite the cold weather prevailing—and there had been not long before a series of days with the temperature well down toward zero—flies were observed to be actively breeding. The Bulletin remarks, "This emphasizes the importance of properly caring for horse manure throughout the year and teaches anew why the filthy fly is always with us." Until definite precautions are taken during the winter to prevent the accumulation of heaps of filth and particularly piles of horse manure, in exposed situations under conditions favorable for breeding, the fly will probably continue to be the nuisance and the serious danger to health that it has always been. But it must not be forgotten, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, that whenever we are ready to get rid of the fly nuisance, our boards of health can accomplish this purpose without enormous trouble, probably after the first year without much additional expenditure in the budget, and with little annoyance to the public generally. When it is recalled how much the absence of this undesirable pest would mean for children alone in our crowded city life, it should not be long before there is a general awakening to the necessity of taking the now well-recognized precautions during the winter that will secure great limitation, if not entire obliteration of fly breeding.

OFFICIAL DUTY.

Making use of an official function to increase one's political power is the common practice, and yet it is a low and mean thing to do. And it is not only so, but it will prove a poor reliance in the end. We have seen men step up through political trickery, only to tumble disastrously in a very short time. There is no place where unselfishness is demanded as in the public service, and yet how much is the demand ignored!

It may be set down as a rule that where a person gets something for nothing in politics, it is only charged up against him for some future day. For a while he may seem a victor, but it will not be long before he is a victim. The past is strewn with these victims. The question must always be asked, in contemplating a political movement or passing a special law—is this for me or for the people? And it is "for me," even if the people share in it, in the end, it will prove a burden and a regret. Don't think that selfishness, trickery, grabbing, win either in public or private life. If one looks back, even over a short life, he can see wrecks along the way of men whose public lives were selfish and tricky. It is bound to be. There are no exceptions. Men who have been false to public trust may have fine monuments, but there are no tears shed at their graves.—Ohio State Journal.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS IN 1914.

Accident Bulletin 52 of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the year ended June 30, 1914, shows that there was comparative improvement in the number of accidents on the steam railways of the United States during the year. The total number of casualties for the year was 202,964, of which there were 10,302 killed and 192,662 injured, a decrease compared with the previous year of 662 in the number killed and 7,646 in the number injured.

THE OBSOLETE ROD.

Former President Taft in a recent speech deplored the growing disuse of the apple tree switch and the slipper. The punishment of children in a way which they can clearly understand is nowadays deemed rather unstylish. Mr. Taft will be denounced as a reactionary.

The former President says he was spanked many times and profited by the experience. Most adults of today have been similarly fortunate. But as to the adults of tomorrow—reared on advanced methods and ignorant of the heavy hand of authoritative discipline—who can say?

One is well aware, from personal experience, that the most insufferable, selfish, ill-tempered child is one who has never known the meaning of a spanking. He is growing toward manhood without any respect for authority, and without any law except his own whimsical desires. He is a pest in infancy and a nuisance in later childhood—what will he be in manhood? Lacking the training which instills respect of authority he may enter the serious work of life considerably handicapped.

There are plenty of children who do not need spankings. The fundamental error is the assumption that no child can benefit by corporal punishment. A discriminating judgment on the part of parents would be of high value, but unfortunately a parent is for or against spanking without regard to the merits or needs of the offspring.

The modern idea is to allow the child to "develop its own individuality." A general view of children in process of this development is disheartening. One longs for more old-fashioned advice like that offered by Mr. Taft.—Ohio State Journal.

THE RAILROAD PRESIDENT'S JOB.

Once a railroad president's chief duties were to build and operate a railroad, dispatch trains, pay wages, distribute dividends, erect stations, dig tunnels and generally accommodate the public. Now a railroad president's heaviest job is to answer questions.

For this statement that veteran graybeard, Eben B. Thomas, president of the Lehigh Valley, is my authority. Last year he had to make 25,000 reports, involving answer to a few million queries propounded by various politically created and politically manned commissions.

Old Plubius said a couple of thousand years ago that, "It is not every question that deserves an answer." President Thomas can testify that of those 25,000 reports which his company made, 24,990 covered useless information, and, therefore, deserved no answer.

But the silliness of the questions and the futility of the information could not abate the zeal of these commissions for more carloads of reports. To please Senator La Follette the people are saddled with that valuation question which is to cost a tidy $50,000,000.

No other one question is quite so expensive as that, but they all cost some money, and nearly all of them as impractical and useless as would be a scheme to propagate fish in the Sahara desert.—Philadelphia Ledger.

HELP!

Former President Taft advocates a seven-year term for the President. Just imagine, if you can, seven years of Woodrow Wilson.—Los Angeles Times.

Stags Realism.
"There was a wonderful rain scene in the play last night."
"Realistic, eh?"
"I should say it was. Why, when the rain storm came up my corns began to hurt me."

"Pears to me these here allies are puttin' up a great fight."
"Ya-as, but 'tain't nothin' to what these Belgians, an' French an' British are doin'."—Judge.

Sufficient.
"Do you think you have sufficient counsel for my boy?"
"Yes; we have a spread-eagle orator, a sob specialist, an insanity expert and a little cuss who knows the law if we need any law."

CAMDEN, STANLEY AND YOUNG

Have a Strong Desire To Apply the Hook To Ollie James—Camden To Go On Racing Body.

(Thomas B. Cromwell in Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Lexington, Ky.—The terms of United States Senator Johnson N. Camden of Versailles, and Congressman Augustus Owsley Stanley of Henderson, who have been in the national service at Washington—Camden only since June 18 last, as the successor of Senator William O'Connell Bradley, who died May 23, and Stanley for 12 years—will expire Thursday, and they will be succeeded by former Governor J. C. W. Beckham of Frankfort, and David H. Kinchloe of Madisonville, respectively. Senator Camden is to be reappointed by Governor James B. McCreary to membership on the Kentucky State Racing Commission, of which he was chairman at the time of his appointment to the Senate, and Congressman Stanley will, after he has appeared as chief counsel in the defense of Donn Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute, Ind., who soon is to be placed on trial at Indianapolis for alleged political sins, enter actively upon his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky.

A succession of circumstances, happenings and meetings of interested persons, the principal one having taken place in Washington, is responsible for the belief that Stanley, in his race for the nomination, is to be backed by Senator Camden, trained by Judge Allie W. Young of Morehead, and piloted by former State Prison Commissioner Eli Brown of Frankfort.

Young After Ollie's Scalp.
Remembering that after Senator Ollie M. James turned down Judge Young's man for the Mt. Sterling post office, Young gave out a statement that he would see to it that "James is a one-term Senator," recalling that the friends of Congressman Stanley in western Kentucky, especially in the First district, have been saying unfriendly things about Senator James since Beckham defeated Stanley for the Democratic Senatorial nomination last August, and taking into account the fact that Senator James gave Senator Camden for his failure to support the shipping bill, this appears to be a perfectly natural line-up which has, for its immediate aim the Governorship for use as an aid to its ultimate aim, the undoing of Senator James.

Senator James has not stated his position with reference to the gubernatorial race. Neither has Senator-elect Beckham, but there is a well defined belief among Kentucky politicians that they will back the same man, with a view to holding their seats for another term, each through the added strength state control would give them.

Talked With Halcy.
On the day after Senator James made his speech flaying Senator Camden he had a talk with General Percy Halcy, who is said to be satisfied that he can win the Democratic nomination for Governor, but who has not, it is said, made up his mind definitely about the shape his fight would take in November and some of the moves he would have to make to take the measure of a Republican opponent, who in all probability will be former United States Attorney Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset.

As One Politician Sees It.
One astute politician this week expressed to the writer a belief in the certainty of the settlement of the question of state wide prohibition or no state wide prohibition at the polls in November. "Every movement points in that direction," said he. "I believe the Republican party, at its platform convention in Lexington, June 15, either will declare against state wide prohibition or in favor of submitting the question to a vote of the people with the understanding that if it is adopted distillers and brewers be compensated for their plants and warehouses from the funds of the state."

"If this transpires the Democrats, having just elected to the Senate the Democrat who for several years has stood as the champion of the cause of the anti-liquor people, will be even more certain to declare in favor of submitting the question to the voters, and they might go to the extreme of declaring directly for state wide prohibition."

"The fight of the liquor people is principally in the direction of a Legislature that will turn down an amendment to the constitution under which the people may be able to vote upon the question, and I am advised that the prohibition forces are preparing to checkmate every move and that they, like the liquor people, will work in both parties."

If this man's steps it correctly both the wets and dries will disregard party lines, each pitting Republican against Republican in Republican strongholds, and Democrat against Democrat in Democratic strongholds, making the nomination equivalent to election and virtually deciding the complexion of the next General Assembly on liquor lines and possibly at the primaries instead of the regular election.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the greatest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

CALAMITY PREDICTED

For Growers of Tobacco In Virginia and the Carolinas—Figures That Tell the Situation—Surplus One Hundred Million Pounds.

(Cincinnati Western Tobacco Journal.)

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Tobacco Association of the United States, held in Richmond, Va., the question that was of the most vital importance was as to the planting of the 1915 crop. After a careful review of the directors issued the following, with statistics that are very comprehensive of the conditions:

To the Tobacco Growers of the Bright Belt in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina:

"After careful consideration by the Board of Directors of the Tobacco Association of the United States, it was determined to issue the following statement regarding the situation of bright tobacco with respect to the planting for 1915:

"Land suitable for the production of bright tobacco in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina is sufficient, if used, to make enough tobacco in one year for the demands of ten years.

"Twenty-five years ago the tobacco produced in eastern North Carolina and South Carolina was a very small amount indeed. In 1914 these two sections produced over 150,000,000 pounds, against about 140,000,000 pounds produced in the Old Belt section of Virginia and North Carolina, showing most distinctly how this new territory has increased.

"Tobacco and cotton are the money crops of this part of the country. The Old Belt section is not adapted to cotton and, therefore, it appears that the cotton section has made the increase in the production of bright tobacco that must produce serious consequences if continued.

Eastern North Carolina and South Carolina produced in—

1910	75,000,000 pounds
1911	49,000,000 pounds
1912	92,000,000 pounds
1913	118,000,000 pounds
1914	150,000,000 pounds

Old Belt Virginia and North Carolina produced in—

1910	100,000,000 pounds
1911	148,000,000 pounds
1912	148,000,000 pounds
1913	200,000,000 pounds
1914	156,000,000 pounds

"It is thought that less than 250,000,000 pounds is annually used, and for the two years over 300,000,000 pounds have been produced, about 100,000,000 pounds more than is used.

"The following will show how this over-production has reduced prices:

South Carolina:

1913—Average	$13.77
1914—Average	9.68

Eastern North Carolina:

1913—Average	$18.56
1914—Average	12.39

Old Belt North Carolina:

1913—Average	$17.72
1914—Average	11.49

Old Belt Virginia:

1913—Average	$16.26
1914—Average	9.83

"While about the same quantity of tobacco was made both years, the 1914 crop brought only two-thirds as much as the 1913 crop, showing conclusively what over-production will bring about.

"With many demands cut off by the European war, and with a surplus of over 500,000,000 pounds added from the 1914 crop, the situation absolutely demands that decided decrease in the planting for 1915 shall take place.

"The Old Belt can not raise any money crop but tobacco, and therefore the crop should be curtailed in the cotton sections, where the increase has been so pronounced. A conservative planting in the eastern North Carolina and South Carolina section will give the farmer an opportunity and an interest to raise full crops for home sustenance, and as the high price of every article of food is likely to continue, it does seem reasonable that every effort on the part of the farmer should be made to raise food crops. By so doing and making a decided cut in the acreage of tobacco, the price of tobacco will be remunerative and will bring about a general condition of prosperity in the communities on which depends the success of the farmers for their welfare.

"Finally, it is the firm opinion of those who have given the matter thought that another large crop of tobacco (and a large crop can only be raised in eastern North Carolina and South Carolina) will be a calamity upon every one connected with the trade, and especially upon the farmer who produces it, and the remedy lies only in a very considerable degree decreasing the planting this year."

WE WENT TO WAR 100 YEARS AGO TODAY.

Washington, March 3.—In these days of "wars and rumors of wars," it is not without interest to recall the fact that one hundred years ago today the United States made a declaration of war against a foreign power. The object of our hostility was the Dey of Algiers, whom we held responsible for the depredations of the Barbary pirates who had been preying upon American commerce. So long as the United States had the war with Great Britain on her hands it had been found impractical to call Algeria and her neighbors to an accounting. But as soon as peace had been declared this government determined to settle matters in the Mediterranean.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATORS MEET IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3.—With "The Rights of the Child" as its general topic, the twelfth annual convention of the Religious Education Association was opened here today with scores of well known clergymen, educators, sociologists and others in attendance. The sessions of the convention will continue four days and will be devoted to an exhaustive discussion of the place of the child in the family, the churches, the state, the schools and the civic life, and plans for properly fitting the child for the needs of modern life.

LICENSE ELECTION IN SHREVEPORT.

Shreveport, La., March 3.—An interesting point of law is involved in the referendum election to be held in Shreveport tomorrow to determine whether liquor licenses may be issued by the city. The prohibitionists maintain that as the saloons were voted out by the parish they can not be voted in again by the city. Should the vote be favorable to the saloons it is probable the drys will carry the matter into the courts to test the validity of the election.

PENSIONS FOR METHODIST MINISTERS.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 3.—Initial steps in a plan to pension retired ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church are expected to be taken at the annual session of the New Jersey Conference, which opened here today. Bishop Henderson of Chattanooga is presiding over the conference.

Albany, N. Y., March 3.—Headed by Jacob H. ALL SORTS.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever; Put a thing of duty is a job more clever.

When a girl dislikes another girl she always says of her: "She is just crazy to get married."

MOTHER RESTORED TO HER FAMILY

Writes a Letter to Tired, Worn-Out Mothers Telling How Vinol Made Her Well and Strong.

Jackson, Miss.—"I shall feel repaid for writing this letter if I can help any tired, worn-out mother or housekeeper to find health and strength as I have. "I have a family of five, sew, cook and do my housework and I became very much run-down in health. I had indigestion and stomach pains and headaches. Often I would be in bed for several days at a time, and before I took Vinol I tried too many remedies to mention, without benefit. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and before I had taken one bottle noticed a big improvement. Now I am well and strong and my old time energy has been restored. Vinol has no superior as a tonic for worn-out, run-down, tired mothers or housekeepers."—Mrs. J. N. NELSON, Jackson, Miss.

We ask every tired, care-worn, run-down, nervous man or woman in this vicinity to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, and they too will soon be able to say that Vinol has built them up and made them strong. Remember, we will return your money if it fails to benefit.

IOWA BUILDING DEDICATED.

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—The dedication of the Iowa State pavilion was one of the principal events on today's program at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Ceremonies appropriate to the occasion were conducted under the auspices of the Iowa State Commission and the Bay Cities Iowa Association, the latter embracing several thousand former Iowans now residing in San Francisco and vicinity.

READY TO HEAR WESTERN RATE CASE.

Chicago, March 3.—Whether the railroad west of the Mississippi river shall be permitted to increase their freight rates, in accordance with schedules filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission nearly a year ago, will be determined by the public hearings which will begin here tomorrow before Commissioner Daniels.

KENTUCKY FARMERS

Are Urged To Co-Operate In Fight On Cattle Disease.

Frankfort.—In order to effectively wipe out the foot and mouth disease in this state it is necessary that the farmers co-operate with the county and Federal authorities in eradicating the disease.

Commissioner of Agriculture Newman stated that he felt reasonably certain that the outbreak around Louisville was under control and few, if any, fresh outbreaks are expected. The greatest trouble now lies in the fact that cattle traders who visited the stock yards at Louisville and Covington before the outbreak was discovered have carried the disease to different parts of the state.

EULOGIES ON BRADLEY

In Senate Will Not Be Delivered Until Next December.

Washington.—Eulogies on the late Senator W. O. Bradley of Kentucky, will not be delivered until next December. After consulting with Representative John W. Langley, a close friend of the late Senator, and his family, Senator Ollie M. James suggested the postponement of the Bradley eulogies until next session. It was explained that data, which it was considered to be desirable to have, had not been received from Kentucky. Senator Camden, who was Senator Bradley's successor, had hoped for an opportunity to pay a tribute to his predecessor before he (Camden) retired March 4.

WHISKY A GOOD THING

To Preserve a Dead Man or Kill a Live One, Says Mississippi Court.

Jackson, Miss.—The Mississippi Supreme Court upheld the May-Mott-Lewis law prohibiting the keeping of intoxicants in social clubs.

In its decision the court quoted the following:

"Whisky is a good thing in its place. There is nothing like it for preserving a man when he is dead. If you want to keep a dead man, put him in whisky. If you want to kill a live man, put whisky in him."

DO YOU WANT A FARM THAT YOU CAN MAKE MONEY ON? IF SO, YOU WILL INVEST IN THIS ONE

Mr. George E. Himes of Lewis county has placed with us for sale two farms that adjoin. One, a farm of 170 acres, the other 50 acres. The 170-acre farm has on it a two-story, seven-room frame house in good condition, tobacco barn 40x60, stock barn 36x36, usual out-buildings. The 50-acre farm has a small house of four rooms, tobacco barn 40x40, 25 acres of bottom land with this farm. Both places have good orchards with a variety of fruit. Mr. Himes' reason for selling is he is getting along in years and does not want the responsibility of looking after a large farm. If you are not afraid of work you can make good on this farm. ILLITERACY CENSUS

To Be Taken During April—Prizes To Moonlight School Teachers Will Be Awarded By March 8.

(Lexington Herald.)

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the Illiteracy Commission, who, with Miss Charl O. Williams, superintendent of Shelby county schools at Memphis, Tenn., visited Lexington public schools yesterday, declared that an illiteracy census will be taken during the regular April school census and will be ready by the last of the month.

Prizes to the moonlight school teachers will be awarded by March 8, Mrs.
Wilson declared. These prizes were offered by the two Kentucky Senators, Mr. James and Mr. Camden, and by numerous of the Congressmen, to create enthusiasm in the work among the moonlight school teachers. Senator James and Senator Camden have offered $50 each and the Congressmen $25 each, she said. They are to be awarded, she said, to the teachers and the school trustees having the best records in the state.

Mrs. Stewart declared the progress in the moonlight schools of the state was very satisfactory, but said she expected greater interest to develop. She said the illiteracy census which the trustees will have taken next month will be of inestimable benefit to the commission.
It will present, she said, an official report of just how many illiterates are in the state and show where they are situated.

MOVEMENTS IN THE BLOCKADE.

London.—England's embargo upon food and raw material destined for Germany is in full effect. The British government is confident that it will be able to blockade the German coast successfully. The press is jubilant over the government's action.

Berlin.—The Germans will increase submarine activity following England's embargo declaration. The German reply to the American note is given Ambassador Gerard.

Washington.—President Wilson, in discussing the blockade policy, stated no nation has a right to change rules of warfare without the concurrence of all nations. The President refused to state what action the United States would take in the blockade.

Admit Recapture of Pzasmys.

TRYING FOR RURAL MAIL ROUTE OUT OF HELENA.

Messrs. Pat Collins and Mike Walton and others of the Helena neighborhood, are the prime movers in an effort to have a rural mail route out of Helena. They last week outlined the proposition to Postmaster M. F. Kehoe of Maysville, and he gave them much encouragement and will see that their petition, which is signed by scores of patrons, reaches the Postoffice Department.

The proposed route would serve over 100 families, and starting at Helena, would go to Millereck, Millereck Station, thence past Mrs. Bettie Finch's residence to Helena Station, up the Elizaville pike to Maysville pike, thence to Helena. It would be a drive of 24 miles. The new route would be of great convenience to the people of that section.

100,000 FORDS

have been sold and delivered since August 1, 1914.
An order for 40,000 cars for immediate delivery has been received from one of the foreign governments. The British government is negotiating for the purchase of 200,000 Fords for immediate delivery. Although we had an order in for a carload to be shipped last month, they are so far behind with shipments that we have no idea when we will receive our allotment. We will fill orders in the order in which they are received. If you want a Ford car for delivery before May 1, don't wait
2 day. ORDER NOW.
